

E.V. Bishoff Company Announces Redevelopment Plans for Columbus' Fifth Street Corridor

An area in Columbus, Ohio that has been overlooked in the past is now garnering attention. Portfolio Operator, E.V. Bishoff Company, announces the bright future ahead and plans for the Fifth Street Corridor.

Columbus, OH (PRWEB) August 27, 2013 -- Located in the shadow of downtown Columbus, the Fifth Street corridor has long been overlooked. This is no longer the case. E.V. Bishoff Company owns and operates eight properties in the area and has plans to redevelop between Long and Spring Streets, with their focus on 155 N. Fifth Street.

The development of the Neighborhood Launch by the Edwards Companies has significantly improved the area. Now bustling with bars, restaurants and offices, E.V. Bishoff Company sees a bright future ahead for this area of Columbus and is the reason they've chosen to invest their time and money on the corridor.

The 10,000 square foot structure of 155 N. Fifth Street is in the midst of being redeveloped to accommodate 1,500-3,500 square foot users. Equipped with magnificent exposed ceilings, ducts and skylights, the project is being designed to accommodate all sorts of businesses and organizations that want a creative, ground-floor environment. With exposed brick walls, wood timber ceilings, the space can be used as offices and through the use of its overhead door, can include five indoor parking spaces and 5,400 square feet of office space.

Being owned and operated by E.V. Bishoff Company, occupants can enjoy all of the benefits of being in a stand-alone building with amenities that include exterior signage, professional management services and skilled maintenance technicians, all in a bustling corridor now firmly placed in-between the central business district, Columbus State Community College and Columbus College of Art and Design.
